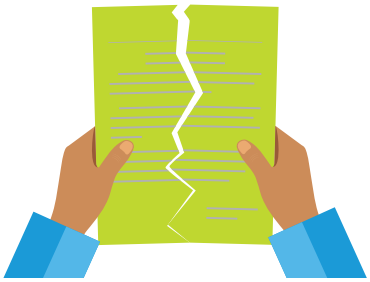
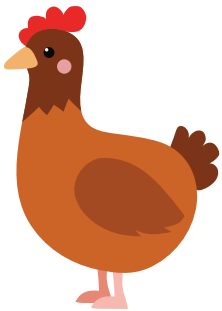
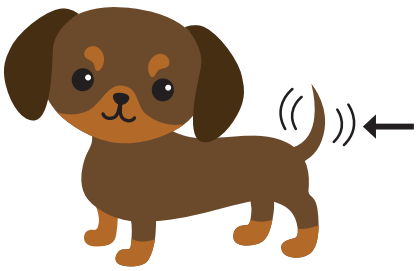
Build CVC Words

Directions: Ask children to cut out the colorful letters on the next page. Have children identify each picture name and say it slowly into their Phoneme Phone, listening for which letter they hear at the beginning, middle, and end of each word. Using the letters they cut out, children can build the words by gluing the letters they hear in the boxes below each picture.







Look Out!

Using scissors is an important fine-motor skill for preschoolers, but it can be very challenging to master. Encourage children to keep their "thumbs up," squeezing the scissors with their thumb on top and leading the cut line. Draw a colorful dot, star, or smiley face on your child's thumb as a reminder.

Permission is granted for limited reproduction of pages for in-home or classroom use and not for resale.

Build CVC Words

Directions: Use the letters below to complete the word building activity. Scissor practice is great for building fine-motor skills and hand muscles for pre-writers. Encourage children to keep their "thumbs up" while they cut. This helps them guide their cuts along the lines and gain greater scissor control.

r	e	g
p	a	i
w	n	m
d	h	u

Word Builder Answers: rip, mud, hen, wag

More Ideas

Open-ended scissor practice is a great confidence builder for preschoolers. Provide scrap paper, old magazines, or even junk mail, and allow children to cut it any way they would like. Children aren't expected to follow a line, so they can focus on maneuvering the scissors and getting comfortable squeezing them.

Permission is granted for limited reproduction of pages for in-home or classroom use and not for resale.